What Issues Did Client Face?

Since its establishment, the university has been growing at a great pace in terms of number of programs offered as well as number of applicants. To support this rapid growth, the university needed a system that meets as well as evolves with the changing operational needs of the institute. University needed help with management of procurement processes since they regularly acquire new supplies and assets to provide their students with good infrastructure.

University required a centralized accounting system that helps them with easy tracking of profitability. They also required a system to manage their HR and payroll related activities. Client was looking for a software solution that facilitated a streamlined way to manage their operational processes, and helped them sustain their growth.

How Did We Resolve These Issues?

We identified the key bottlenecks that were present in institute's operations, and designed a solution with customized modules of Procurement, Accounting, and Human Resource and Payroll. These modules were designed such that they worked independently as well as collaborated with each other as per the institute requirements. The solution was designed to enable quick deployment, since client wanted quick implementation and integration of the software with their institution workflows.

Key Points Of Our Solution

To enable quick implementation of the solution, we doubled our efforts to produce a solution within a short span of time. The client team was trained on the solution, and asked to use it for few days so that they can point out any changes, new additions that needed to be made in the application. As per the suggested functional and non-functional changes by the client team, we made modifications in the solution. The final resulting solution successfully matched the client requirements.
